VOL. 10, NO. 231 MONESSEN, PA., TUESDAY, MARCH 5, 1912 SIX CENTS THE WEEK

SOME RACY HEARINGS BY BURGESS

Mrs. Frank Kasmar of Wildcat Hollow jumped into the lime light last night when with the aid of a burly and wicked looking 32 calibre revolver she recited the tale of her husband's misdoings before Burgess Reamer. The wicked revolver was not in evidence at the trial but it was the means of her being there herself and so it receives its place in the story. Frank, it seems, did not like his wife's cooking any too well and he had been imbibing a little too freely of the amber-liquid so when the storm finally broke he was ready and in good condition to do his share towards making it last as long as possible, and this angered Mrs. Kasmer so much that she procured the revolver and endeavored to calm her husband with it's "gentle" aid and succeeded quite admirably. They have a fine of $5 and costs each, to remember the episode by.

Another hearing that was held before the Burgess, was that of Percy Randolph and his wife, Anna May Randolph, both colored and living on Third street. When Randolph arrived home last evening he was confronted by his spouse with that ever troublesome question, "Where is your money?" and on being told that it was gone, it is though, that an argument arose during which Randolph stabbed his wife in the left shoulder with a pocket knife causing an ugly wound. No one seemed to remember exactly how the affair started and after hearing both sides of the question and the witnesses, the Burgess ordered Randolph to pay a fine of $25 or spend 60 days in the county jail. Randolph is said to have had some trouble with his wife once before while living at Belle Vernon and stabbed her, being sent to the Fayette county jail for a term of 3 months for the offense.

PREACHER PREACHES FERNENT PINK TEAS

The people in our neighboring town of Fayette City are all wrought up over the fact that in a sermon delivered on last Sunday evening before his congregation, Rev. T. M. Dunkle, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of that place scored in no uncertain terms the practice of giving "pink teas" and "cheap theatricals" as a method for raising money for church purposes. This is a practice much in vogue at the present time and is coming up for more or less discussion in all the churches of the town, but Rev. Dunkle's declaration came as a bolt of lightning from the clear sky and matters are reaching the boiling point very precipitately.

PAGE ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION BANQUETS AND ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

With "Some more banquet," and the emphasis on that some, is the way the members of the Page Athletic Association and their friends celebrated the annual meeting of the Association. The affair took place at the New Kilroy hotel and to say that it was not just what it was, "a royal feed and a jolly time," would require the temperament of a person with a good strong attack of dyspepsia and also afflicted with a chronic grouch. The room was very prettily decorated in blue and white bunting, also pennants and flowers, and promptly at 8:30 over a hundred members and their guests assembled in the large and spacious dining room of the hotel and, seduced along by the strains of the Colonial orchestra, rambled into a miniature paradise only to be rudely awakened when a movement was made to adjourn. While the banquet was in its last stages, President R. H. Thatcher took the floor and introduced to the assemblage the officers of the past year in order to have the reports read. First came vice president and manager L. W. Hunter, who pointed with great pride to the Page achievements of last year on the diamond, 16 victories and 6 defeats in 22 games played and the games were played with some of the strongest amateur teams in Western Pennsylvania; next secretary J. K. Ball spoke briefly about the prospects and past acheivements and E. A. Wells gave his report as treasurer which was a very encouraging one and showed a balance of $79.10 in the treasury at the close of the season, a nice little increase over that of last year. General Manager E. C. Sattley was then introduced as the toastmaster of the evening and he fulfilled his part in a very capable manner. To begin with he read a letter from H. B. Hope, representing the Carnegie Steel Co., in which the use of the grounds for the current year are given to the association; he then gave a short and encouraging talk to the men from the point of view of the officers of the Page Co., and this was very favorable to the continuance of ahtletics as long as there was no imposition and a stand for clean sportsmanship; one stand was taken and a very good one it as, "We cannot hire men to play ball but there is nothing to keep us from hiring men who can play ball;" D. C. Muckley was the next speaker and then followed in order, G. H. Thomas, Lee Vaughn, A. Brazee and John McElroy, all of whom, however were preceded by A. Dawson who presented to Elmer Hogg on behalf of his fellow employes a dandy leather suitcase, a pair of the best baseball shoes and one of Spalding's finest make of gloves. Mr. Hogg responded to this in a very fitting manner and thanked his friends for their gifts. Mr. Hogg will leave shortly for Adrian, Mich., where he has signed up for the coming season with the Adrian team of the Southern Michigan league.

The last bit of business transacted was the report heard from the chairman of the nominating committee, R. R. Preston, who gave as the nominations of said committee the following: President, R. H. Thatcher; vice president, L. W. Hunter; secretary, J. K. Ball; treasurer, E. A. Wells, and Charles Crouse, Dan Rivers, A. Dawson, E. E. Woodward and William Moore as the directors. These were unanimously elected and adjournment immediately followed, and so closed one of the most auspicious affairs of its kind ever held in our midst.

Do you use Hydrogen Peroxide?

The American market is flooded with different makes of Hydrogen Peroxide, sold at all sorts of prices. The Parke, Davis & Co. brand has been proved to be 30 per cent stronger than others on the market today. At the end of nine months it loses in strength only .06 per cent. The others lose from 1 to 64 40 per cent It certainly does not benefit a man who purchases Peroxide at a low price, for he has little more than ordinary water in the bottle after the lapse of three or four months. We have on our shelves some cheap stuff, and then we have the best—Parke, Davis & Co.'s.

PORTER AND HOUCK START BALL LIVELY

The Evangelistic meetings at the Presbyterian church began last evening with a song service that was both spirited and effective, under the able leadership of Prof. Daniels. As usual Pete Porter was there with the good old gospel, spiced with a week's service with "Billy Sunday" at Wheeling.

Evangelist Houck was introduced to a Monessen audience for the first time last night. Though he is known in every town in the Monongahela valley in which he has labored for over seven years, Monessen had its first opportunity of hearing this man of God.

Evangelist Houck, has had a unique experience. At 12 years of age he ran away from home and joined a circus. He became a noted acrobat, ending his phenomenal career with the circus as a flying trapeze tumbler.

Like most of his fellows he was steeped in the sinfulness of his profession. Upon his conversion, 17 years ago, he came clean and square for Christ and has devoted all these years to reclaim his fellow men. Mr. Houck is no novice. He prepared for his service in the Moody Bible school and has been ordained as an evangelist under Kedstone Presbyterv. He has campaigned with the famous Torrey, Chapman, "Gypsy" Smith and Billy Sunday. He comes to Monessen ripe in experience and with the zeal of youth in his work for men.

The first services brought forth results and thereby speaks well for the future meetings. One of the interesting features of the meetings will be the seven o'clock prayer-services in the Men's bible class room. These will be conducted by Mr. Houck, to which he invites all who are interested enough in the welfare of these meetings to assemble for prayer. The usual afternoon meetings will be held every day under the direction of the pastor and his corps of helpers.

The addresses by Messrs. Houck and Porter were listened to with intense interest by a large congregation. "The services are for everybody," said Pete, "and we want every body to get interested and attend these meetings, as we need and welcome the help of all. Every night at 7:45. Come."

THE MAIL IS IN WRONG AS USUAL

The Charleroi Mail seems to be busying itself about the doings in Monessen. If this was done within the bounds of newspaper propriety no one could object but the "news" that crosses the bridge from this side and goes through the Mail sanctum becomes so colored that no person dare recognize it as genuine. A few days ago the Mail thought it had discovered some discord over here and it proceeded to place scare headlines on an article which told of a proposed "commissary" which is to be established to take care of the laborers for the work of the additions to the Pittsburgh Steel. "Turmoil at Monessen," says the Mail headline. We have interviewed a dozen or more people, talked with officials of the mill and business men and hang it, if we can find the least evidence of "turmoil at Monessen." Inasmuch as the article is bubbling over with burlesque we produce a portion of it just to show what kind of papers are published in Charleroi. The Mail says: "Inasmuch as the merchants and business men of Monessen have recently organized a board of trade which is hustling to promote the business and civic interests of the town, the feeling is prevalent in many quarters that a protest should be made against the proposed commisary.

The erection of the proposed blast furnaces and additional open hearth furnaces will employ a big force of men and if these are quartered in a labor camp as previously under control of an agent, who will furnish them with virtually all they need in the way of provisoins and supplies, the business men fail to see wherein the town will be benentted. On the other hand the duties of the police in maintaining order will be increased, as there is always more or less trouble in communities where such camps are maintained."

Mr. and Mrs. Cooper, and daughter Anna, of Cambridge Springs have returned to their home after a two weeks' visit here with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hanlon.

The new ordinance passed by council and signed by the burgess which has already been published and placed upon the statutes of the borough, will doubtless cover the distaseful elements with which the local merchants have had to contend. It will put an end to the trafficing in so-called fake sales and stop outsiders from coming here to unload on the public merchandise which is not up to the standerd. It is to be hoped that people will not exhaust their every energy to keep every legitimate enterprise from coming to town. The constitution of the United States is based upon common sense and intelligence and no state law can conflict with its provisions, likewise no muncipal ordinance can conflict with a state law. The present ordinance is intended to conflict with neither one and was framed and passed for the protection of the local business concerns. The former ordinance was so broad and far reaching in its demands as to encourage the driving out of every enterprise of a temporary character. It was used for the selfish interests of individuals rather than a reasonable protection for our commercial welfare. Unwarranted arrests were made and this fact led to its repeal and the enactment of one wiser and saner. It should be the duty now of the city officials to enforce the law and establish a sane and sensible standard of custom.

Council has done the wise thing in tabooing the proposition of Dr. Samuel Dixon of the State Health Department of a compulsory disposal plant for Monessen. It was put before council more than a year ago that plans should be prepared on or before a certain specified time and in order to be safe Alexander Potter was awarded a contract for the preparation of plans which cost the taxpayers $800.00. The council acted in all sincerity but the doubt as to the state's right to enforce any such a provision is now pretty generally broadcast and at the last meeting council balked at another preposition to hitch up with Donora on a disposal plan. It neither looks feasible nor right, and council did right in turning down the proposition flatly, and so notifying the state department.

If the state wants to attempt the enforcement of any such burden upon communities let it attempt it and see how far reaching the result will be. Council is right Save the money and put it in plans of some other kind.

The Greensburg Tribune in commenting on the Shields case, says: "The appellate court sustained the lower court except." "Except" is a good word. It is just like the signal at a railroad crossing; "stop, look, listen." It means there is something coming and you are in danger if you try to go further. If the lower court had been entirely sustained a re-sentence would not have been necessary.

The business man who advertises when he wants a girl for general housework, or to clerk in his store, takes an awful risk when he spends twenty five cents with the local paper. If he failed to get fifty or more calls from girls he would say, "it doesn't pay to advertise."

OUTFITTTERS FOR THE ENTIRE FAMILY

250 DONNER AVE. Monessen

A number of short line railroads are coming in for a rigid investigation at the hands of the Interstate Commerce Commission, among which is named the "Donora Southern," a piece of trackage or so-caled railroad which many do not know exists, and those who do know of it often wonder what it is, where it is, who built it, and what for. There is not much doubt but these very points will be made plain when the matter comes before commissioner James S. Harlan who represents or looks after interstate tangles or irregularities.

Just last week the case of the Union Railroad, a subsidiary of the United States Steel Corporation was taken up. The right of this road, with 29 miles of main trackage and 63 miles of sidings to come in direct competition with trunk lines, is questioned, and F. R. McFeatters, the superintendent was kept on the witness stand two days answering questions, it being stoutly denied that the road enjoyed a monopoly, although it did transact considerable business, handling 800,000 cars and employing 1,300 men. It has trunk line connections with the P.R.R., the B. & O., the Lake Erie and the Wabash and its Southern terminus is at Duquesne.

Now, the Donora Southern is a piece of track, possibly three miles in length, extending from Bamford, opposite Monessen, along the river frontage to the lower end of Donora, and was built probably ten years ago, supposedly by the Wabash interests to block another road and the charter has only been kept alive all these years by running a shifter over the tracks each day.

Of course this may not be termed a competitive line, but it is a direct hindrance to other progressive interests contrary to the intent and purpose of the Interstate Commerce Commission and there is no question of doubt but that it will come in for a goodly share of hard raps when the case comes up for investigation before Commissioner Harlan.

The most superficial investigation will prove that the following statement from a resident of Monessen is true. Read it and compare evidence from Monessen people with testimony of strangers living so far away you cannot investigate the facts of the case. Many more citizens of Monessen will endorse Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor, 452 McKee avenue, Monessen, Pa., says: "I think that the change of drinking water when I moved here was the cause of my kidney trouble. The kidney secretions became irregular in passage and caused me annoyance. I was subject to dizzy spells, could not sleep well and was very nervous. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I got a box from the Hirsch Drug Co. and commenced their use. They have greatly helped me and have lived up to all the claims made for them."

We understand that beginning with last week M. D. Crandall, recently of the Omaha World-Herald, accepted the position of assistant editor of the Belle Vernon Enterprise, and we wish to extend him our best wishes for a long and successful career. Mr. Crandall is an experienced newspaper man and it is with pleasure we note the many strong features of his first issue.

MAN IS SEVERELY BURNED BY STEAM

Charles Ursitz, aged 24 years, employed as a blacksmith in the Tremont mine of the River Coal Co., at Tremont a small mining hamlet a short distance above Belle Vernon, was seriously burned by escaping steam Sunday morning while at work in the engine room. Ursitz was helping with the repair work when suddenly the pipes gave way and before he could reach a place of safety he was horribly scalded about the face, arms and upper extremites of his body. His condition at the present time is very precarious although the doctors hold out hopes for his recovery.

WOMAN'S MOST SUCCESSFUL MEDICINE

Known All Over The World —Known Only For The Good It Has Done.

We know of no other medicine which has been so successful in relieving the suffering of women, or received so many genuine testimonials, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In nearly every community you will find women who have been restored to health by this famous medicine. Almost every woman you meet knows of the great good it has been doing among suffering women for the past 30 years.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing hundreds of thousands of letters from women seeking health, in which many openly state over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, many of whom state that it has saved them from surgical operations.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is made from roots and herbs, and is perfectly harmless.

The reason why it is so successful is because it contains ingredients which act directly upon the female organism, restoring it to healthy and normal activity.

Women who are suffering from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

GRAY HAIR AT SMALL COST

Simple Remedy Beautifies the Hair. Cures Dandruff, Stops Falling Hair.

What a pity it is to see so many people with thin, wispy hair, faded or streaked with gray, and realize that most of these people might have soft, glossy, abundant hair of beautiful color and lustre if they would but use the proper treatment. There is no necessity for gray hair under sixty-five years of age, and there is no excuse for anyone, young or old, having thin, straggling hair, either full of dandruff or heavy and rank smelling with excessive oil.

You can bring back the natural color of your hair in a few days and forever rid yourself of any dandruff and loose hairs, and make your hair grow strong and beautiful by using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. For generations common garden Sage has been used for restoring and preserving the color of the hair; and Sulphur is recognized by Scalp Specialists as being excellent for treatment of hair and scalp troubles.

If you are troubled with dandruff or itching scalp, or if your hair is losing its color or coming out, get a fifty cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur from your druggist, and notice the improvement in the appearance of your hair after a few days' treatment.

STAR THEATRE HAS A FINE OPENING

Under new management and with an air that has not pervaded the place for some time the Star theatre reopened last evening and it certainly was a revelation in many ways to the many patrons of this popular playhouse. Carnations were given to the ladies and one of the best shows ever here was presented to the last night's patrons and to say they were pleased would be puting it too mildly.

Mite Morree, West and Alquist and Nelson Kearns and Co., in an amusing playlet brim full of laughs entitled, "Poor Jones" and excellent moving pictures made up an evening's entertainment second to none. The old Star theatre orchestra was back in its place and the boys have certainly not lost any of their old ability for seldom has it been our lot to hear better orchestration than that of last evening.

A BAD FIRE LAST NIGHT AT ELCO

Last night a fire of unknown origin caused damage to the extent of $3,500 at Elco, a village just this side of Roscoe on the P. V. and C. The old barber shop of John Terrell, a pool room conducted by Charles Wainright and a large dwelling house occupied by Raymond Burts were devoured by the flames before anything could be done to save them. The buildings were owned by Mrs. Catherine Collins and the loss is partly insured. The Burts family made a hasty exit in their night clothes and were sheltered in a neighboring house until morning. Their household goods are a total loss.

PROFESSOR READ THE SIGNS

But Companion Had Doubts About Character of Boy, Despite Expert Opinion.

The professor who reads character from physiognomy pointed to the boy opposite He belonged to the criminal type, said the professor Look at his eyes, his ears, his cheek bones, his mouth—criminal, every one of them

The boy sat very still. All about him were other boys swinging ball bats, and cuffing each other's ears, but that, the professor said, was only the natural overflow of animal spirits; the quiet boy was too thoroughly steeped in criminality to have any animal spirits. Just as the professor's companion was beginning to wonder if it was safe to ride in the same car with the youthful degenerate the boy reached down into his pocket and brought forth a white flower It was a common field flower, a cluster of tiny white blossoms topping a slender stalk. The boy seemed very fond of it. He twirled the stalk, he stroked the leaves and petals, and every touch was soft and tender. But the professor had no eyes for those gentle fingers, he was intent on the unmistakable signs of inherited depravity.

"A bad one, he is, all right," said the professor with a solemn shake of the head.

But the other person looked at the flower again A bad one, was he? Maybe; but the other person had doubts.

LEE'S IDEA OF A GENTLEMAN

Great Southerner's High Ideals Shown by Memorandum Found Among His Papers.

Lee hated parade, display and ceremony, hated above all things being made an object of public gaze and adulation, declares a writer in the Atlantic. His idea of high position was high responsibility; a superior was simply one who had larger duties, and the mark of a gentleman was a keen sense of the feelings and susceptibilities of others.

No one has ever expressed this attitude more delicately than he himself in a memorandum found among his papers after his death.

"The forbearing use of power does not only form a touchstone, but the manner in which an individual enjoys certain advantages over others is a test of a true gentleman.

"The power which the strong have over the weak, the magistrate over the citizen, the employer over the employed, the educated over the unlettered the experienced over the confiding, even the clever over the silly—the forbearing or inoffensive use of all this power or authority or a total abstinence from it when the case admits it will show the gentleman in a plain light.

"The gentleman does not needlessly and unnecessarily remind an offender of a wrong he may have committed against him. He cannot only forgive, he can forget; and he strives for that nobleness of self and mildness of character which impart sufficient strength to let the past be but the past. A true man of honor feels humbled himself when he cannot help humbling others."

At The Nickel Show

Little Girl—Mamma, is it going to begin now? Is it?

Mamma—Yes, dear. Hush!

Little Girl—Mamma, what makes that lady wear her hair like that? Oh, what are those men doing in the picture?

Mamma—It's in Africa. He's reading a letter.

Little Girl—Who's it from? His mamma?

Mamma—No, it's to his sister. He's telling her to come down to see him. A friend of his, named Joe, will see that she gets there safely.

Girl in Front—Oh, ain't that swell? Gee, I'd like to go on that boat! Some class!

Little Girl—Mamma, is that his sister? And, mamma, where did that man come from?

Mamma—'Sh! One's the man named Joe and the other's a new friend she has just met.

Little Girl—O-oh, mamma, does she like him? Does she, mamma?

Mamma—I guess so. 'Sh! Evidently that other fellow wants her to talk to him, Sally. How silly he acts!

Little Girl—Was he silly, mamma? Was he?

Mamma—I was speaking of your Aunt Sally. Be quiet, child.

Girl at the Back—What do they bring such little kids for, anyhow?

Little Girl—What is it? Oh, mamma, what is it? Lookit! Lookit!

Mamma—Hush! They're just getting shipwrecked, that's all. It's nothing.

Little Girl—Oh, what is shipwrecked? What is it, mamma? Does it mean getting spilled out like that? There goes the silly man! O-oh! Look at the water? Where'd that man go?"

Mamma—He fell in, that's all Now see, they'll be saved. They've been three days on the life raft.

Little Girl—Oh, mamma, where'll they get anything to eat?

Girl in Front—Gee, ain't this swell? I hope that fresh kid gets drowned.

Little Girl—What's the matter with Joe? What makes the new man act so?

Mamma—Joe hasn't been nice and the new man makes him behave by hitting him See, now, they come safe to shore

Little Girl—Will they have something to eat now, mamma? Will they?

Mamma—Yes, they will. See, they're building a fire

Little Girl—O-o oh, mamma! Are those real lions? Oh, where did they get 'em?

Mamma—Out of some show, I guess Say, Sally, that certainly is a fine stockade Pretty, ain't it?

Little Girl—What makes the man take his ax?

Mamma—He's the new man. He's going to chop trees. They'll build a bonfire on the shore so that ships can see they are there and pick them up

Little Girl—I guess he's gone to chop now and left Joe, ain't he? Oh, Joe's going to sleep Why doesn't the girl tell him to look out? Oh, here comes a lion! Oh, mamma, why doesn't the chopper chop the lions? Oh, mamma, what are the lions doing? What are they doing?

Mamma—Don't say anything, Sally I can't explain that they're eating him can I?

Little Girl—Oh, eating who? Oh, mercy, why doesn't the chopper come?

Mamma—Here he comes. It's all right

Little Girl—What's the chopper carrying away? What's he taking Joe off for? Is he all dead from the lions? Oh, dear, why didn't he chop 'em? How long have they got to stay there, just the girl and the new man?

Mamma—Two years, it says.

Little Girl—Ain't they going to have anything to eat for two years?

Girl in Front—Oh, see, her brother hears that their signals have been seen! I was getting scared for fear they weren't ever going to find them

Little Girl—Oh, look at the man and the elephant! Are they good men, mamma?

Mamma—Yes, yes, it's her brother come to look for her.

Little Girl—Oh, goody, goody! Why do they bring the elephant? Why do they?

Mamma—To ride on, of course Don't be foolish.

Little Girl—Oh, see the lions coming after 'em! O-o-oh, lookit! Lookit! Why doesn't the chopper chop 'em? Why doesn't he?

Mamma—It does look like a tight place, doesn't it, Sally? He can't shoot both those lions with one arrow.

Little Girl—Oh, why hasn't he got more? When they get eaten all up will they go to heaven? Will they?

Mamma—Here comes her brother. My, but that was a close call! Look at those lions fall over! Good shots, weren't they?

Little Girl—Oh, mamma, why does she kiss him? Why does she? Does she like him better'n the chopper? Oh, does she?

Mamma—It's her brother, child. Hush!

Little Girl—Oh, that's all. Oh, what became of it?

Girl at the Back—Oh, shucks! What ever did they shut it off so fast for? I wanted to see the brother and sister glad to see each other. I wonder if she married the other man.
